

Meet Your 2019 MATCP Board Nominees!

Angie Plunkett earned a B.S. in Criminal Justice from Southeast Missouri State University in 1990. She served as a Missouri Probation and Parole Officer for 14 years before she began working as a local Drug Court Administrator in 2005, launching five rural drug court programs in Southeast Missouri. Angie also worked two years as a legislative assistant for the Missouri Senate, serving as staff to the Senate Committee on Veterans Affairs and Pensions. In 2010, Angie became the Statewide Treatment Court Coordinator for the Missouri Office of State Courts Administrator (OSCA). As statewide coordinator she provided executive oversight and technical assistance to ensure the 149 adult, DWI, family, juvenile and veteran treatment court programs operated effectively. She was the grant writer and project manager for two BJA grants and served as principal staff to the Drug Courts Coordinating Commission, the Treatment Courts Committee and the Missouri Association of Treatment Courts (MATCP) Equity Committee. She also acted as co-facilitator for the state drug court coordinators and was a member of the CCJ/COSCA Problem-Solving Court Committee. Angie became the Criminal Justice Services Manager for the Missouri Department of Mental Health (DMH) in November 2018 and currently serves as the DMH liaison for the courts, Department of Corrections and the Justice Reinvestment Initiative.

Mary Beth Lammey holds a Master of Science degree in Criminal Justice from Drury University. In 1997, she began her career with the State of Missouri, Division of Probation and Parole. She began as a Probation and Parole Officer, and supervised caseloads from Greene and Lawrence Counties. The caseloads she supervised consisted of sexual offenders, dangerous felons and clients on electronic monitoring. In 2006, Mary Beth became a Unit Supervisor and supervised Probation and Parole Officers and managed two sub offices in Barry and Stone Counties. She was then promoted to District Administrator over the Branson office in 2009; which covered Taney, Stone and Barry Counties at the time. In 2014, she transferred to the District Administrator position at the District 10R Office located in Springfield, MO. This office currently covers the treatment court programs within Greene County. In 2017, she became the Regional Administrator over the Southwest Region; covering 11 District Offices and 7 Institutional Parole Offices. Most recently Mary Beth accepted the position of Policy and Procedure Coordinator for the Division of Probation and Parole. Throughout her career with Probation and Parole she has worked with multiple treatment courts and team members.

In addition to working for Probation and Parole, I have been an adjunct instructor for Drury University since 2005, teaching classes on Victimology, Advanced Criminology and Probation and Parole. I am married and we have four wonderful children. My daughters are 23 and 13, my stepdaughter is 22 and my stepson is 19.

Anne Dannerbeck Janku, Ph.D.--After completing her Ph.D., she became a research professor at the University of Missouri and shifted her focus to people involved with the justice system, including drug courts. For over 11 years, Anne worked at the Missouri Office of State Courts Administrator where she led the Research Unit. Currently she is a consultant for the National Drug Court Institute and a research associate professor in the MU School of Social Work.

Anne has been very involved in research and enhancing practice in drug courts for much of her career. Since 1998 she has played a lead role in evaluations of Missouri drug courts and reentry courts. She contributed to the implementation of the Risk and Needs Triage tool in Missouri and has been particularly active in developing strategies to enhance equity and inclusion in drug courts. She designed performance measures used by programs in the state. Through on-site trainings and publications, she continues to encourage drug courts to adopt the best of research-based practices.
